Power Slash to Conserve Coal Brings Dimout

Second Dimout, More Drastic than War-Time Caused By Coal Strike

The current coal strike, which caused more than 400,000 miners to leave their jobs last week, is responsible for a dimout order which was effective on Monday of this week. The restriction, which is more drastic than any previously ordered, will ban all display lighting, and all other uses except those necessary for safety and health.

It requires a 25% reduction in electricity used in street lighting and other uses in buildings other than homes, and outlaws Christmas tree lighting, both outdoor and indoor, as well as window and counter lighting in stores. Theaters will be allowed the use of one 60 watt bulb in lighting of marquees, and outdoor businesses, such as service stations, will be allowed sufficient light to transact business.

Utilities are Regulated
A companion order prescribes a formula for utilities furnishing manufactured and mixed gas to curtail their deliveries when their coal stocks fall to a three-week supply. It orders reductions in service to specified classes of consumers.

The orders are designed to stretch the coal supplies of the public utilities as far as possible in view of the bituminous strike.

"The situation confronting the American public today is much more serious than that brought about by the coal strike last spring," said a statement of John D. Small, CPA administrator.

Seasonable Demands Higher
He noted that seasonal demands were heavier and industrial consumption is greater now. That means, he added, "that shortages which would cripple our economy and inflict great hardship are that much nearer—are just around the corner, in fact."

Small reported, on a national average perhaps a 60 day supply of coal now in the hands of electric utilities, and considerably less among gas utilities.

He said that any electric utility, when it has less than 30 days' supply of coal on hand, may apply to CPA.

Twenty-One States Affected
States affected include Illinois, Connecticut, Delaware, Indiana, Iowa, Kentucky, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Vermont, Virginia, West Virginia and Wisconsin.

Worse To Come
The first restriction, now in effect, is but the fore-runner of a more stringent limit on the use of coal, and automatic tightening of the restrictions are scheduled for all areas served by utilities as the supply of coal dwindles. Utilities are ordered to put a second order into effect when coal piles are at the 15-day level and a third when available supplies are good for 10 days.

Possible closing of all public schools is in sight if the striking miners do not return to the mines within a short time.

Bazaar at St. Peter's Big Success With More Than $1,000 Earnings

The women of St. Peter's parish are highly pleased with the success of their bazaar last Sunday. The receipts will run well over $1,000 and will be a substantial contribution to the school building fund.

More than 400 persons were served at the turkey dinner from noon until 4 p. m. Practically all of the baked goods and gifts were sold and the games were well patronized.

Mrs. Frank Kennedy was general chairman. Mrs. John Pacini and Mrs. Mary Golden in charge of the dinner were assisted by an efficient group of helpers.

Those in charge of the booths were: Mrs. Joseph Cosgrove and Mrs. H. J. Brogan, baked goods; Mrs. Rudy Eckert and Mrs. Marjorie Seitz at the gift bar; Mrs. William Rosing and Mrs. Robert Webb, home-made arts; Mrs. Ed Vos and Mrs. Ed Jacobs, doll booth; Mrs. Carl Pachey and Miss Irene Pachey, fish pond; MariAnne Hunt and Mrs. Ralph Thompson, jewelry and linens; Mrs. Gus Techert and Mrs. Tom Gully, Kiddie Koop; Miss Schaefer Brogan, general supervisor; Mrs. John Harrison, Del Miller, John Brown, Ed Vos, and Charles Cermak, games.

Car Struck by Soo Line Train Last Thurs.

When her car stalled on the Soo line tracks at the Rte 21 crossing last Thursday afternoon, Mrs. Mildred Barber, of Silver Lake, Wis., joined her two passengers, Mrs. Mildred Swartz and Mrs. J. L. Becker in abandoning it in the path of an approaching freight train.

The automobile was demolished but the women were unhurt. The Antioch rescue squad was given an emergency call but found upon arrival it was not needed.

The automobile was hurled against the crossing warning signal badly damaging the device.

Thanksgiving Day In Antioch Time Of Feasting, Rest

Family Gatherings, Closing Of Business Houses Mark Event

Thanksgiving in Antioch and vicinity will be a quiet event with the chief attraction for all probably a special dinner with turkey or some other kind of fowl topping the menu.

Most of the stores will be closed for the day only a few with vital services remaining open any length of time. Professional offices will be closed.

Some people will go to the resorts for special dinner and the high class restaurants no doubt will have a big trade.

The school vacation will give opportunity for some of the teachers with relatives in distant places to go there for family gatherings.

It is probable that just about as many will come to Antioch for family get-togethers as those who leave for the same purpose.

The Frostee Sno factory had a Thanksgiving party and luncheon at the factory Monday. Turkey sandwiches, fruit, cake and cookies were served.

Legion is Making Improvements on Home on Ida Ave.

Many new improvements including a new roof, remodeling of the basement and insulation of the entire building are being made at Antioch American Legion home this week.

The improvements also call for replacement of the roof and the installation of a new oil burner to replace the present heating plant.

Changes in the basement cover the building of a new bar and re-decoration.

Dance Saturday Success
The first in a series of Saturday night dances was held last Saturday and was well attended. Dancers enjoyed the music of Joe Cutler and his orchestra. Cutler has been engaged to furnish the music for the entire series which will include dances each Saturday until spring.

The officers and members of the Legion stated that the dances are a part of the program of the Legion for community entertainment for veterans of World War II and their friends as well as the general public.

Legion Sponsors "Gifts for Vets"
Again this year the local Legion post will sponsor a "Gifts for Yanks Who Gave" drive. Placards will be posted during the week at local stores which have volunteered to act as receiving stations for the gifts. All gifts will be delivered to veterans hospitals on Christmas Day.

Any and all gifts will be acceptable, with the exception of those containing foodstuffs, knives or razor blades, according to the announcement. And all gifts should be securely wrapped and plainly marked on the outside as to whether they are intended for men or women. It was explained that foodstuffs are prohibited because of the fact that many patients are on strict diets and would not be allowed to use them. The ban on razor blades and knives is self-explanatory.

The committee in charge said that the drive would end on December 15th in order to allow sufficient time for distribution of the gifts.

Fire Department Guests of Wm. A. Rosing Tuesday

Members of the Antioch Fire department were guests of Wm. A. Rosing at Pregezer's Resort Tuesday evening. The firemen were served a delicious roast beef dinner and entertainment by motion pictures during the evening. No business was transacted at the meeting.

100 to Take Part In Antioch Club's Fox Hunt Sunday

Morning and Afternoon Sessions Planned; to Comb East Antioch Twp.

About one hundred hunters and sportsmen are expected to participate in the Antioch Hunting and Fishing club's fox hunt Sunday, Dec. 1, according to Dr. D. N. Deering, president of the club.

Plans for the hunt, which is the first move in a drive to rid the territory of the destructive pests, were made at a meeting of the club Wednesday evening at Hans and Mable's Loon Lake.

Sportsmen who are interested are invited to take part in the event, and may register at Antioch Shell station, Lake and Main street, Antioch. It was explained that it is not necessary to register to take part in the hunt, but that planning would be much more easily and effectively done if a correct estimate of the manpower available could be made.

Dr. Deering said that the hunters would assemble at the corner of Lake and Main on Sunday at 9 a. m. and would be assigned to groups, each of which will have a leader, who will be responsible for a specific part of the land to be covered. He also said that cars would be available to carry the hunters back to their cars in order to avoid the long walk back after the hunt.

Two drivers will be made during the day, with the second to start at 1 p. m. Hunters who cannot make the morning's hunt may take part in the afternoon's event by being at Lake and Main at 1:00 p. m.

Officers of the Illinois conservation department will direct the activities of the day. Great stress was laid on the fact that arms will be limited strictly to shotguns and that rifles of all kinds, as well as revolvers, will not be allowed. It was explained that the great range of even the smallest bore rifles would be dangerous with so many in a comparatively small area.

Officers of the club expressed confidence that a number of foxes will be disposed of, since numerous dens have been reported by farmers and other persons who are interested in getting rid of the pests.

Legion Cagers Will Open Season Monday With Waukegan Here

Both Local Teams Win Over Grayslake by Large Scores Monday

The Antioch Legion basketball team will open the home season Monday night in what is expected to be fast games with the Waukegan American Legion.

The games will be played on the high school court starting at 7:30 p. m.

The two Antioch teams started their season away from home with overwhelming victories over Grayslake there Monday evening. A large crowd of Grayslake people were present and quite a number from Antioch.

The starting lineups for Antioch were: Effinger, Kaufman, forwards; Staffenberg, center; Rockow, Reeves played on the second team and Reeves, guards. Rockow and with Denman, Bower and Crandall.

The locals scored a second win Tuesday evening by whitewashing a team at Fox Lake 52-29. The game was played before a capacity house at Warren Township high school gymnasium.

Colors to Be Presented to Sequoit V.F.W.

Matt Smith Post, Waukegan V. F. W. organization will present a set of colors to the local V. F. W. Post at the next regular meeting of Sequoit post, on Tuesday, December 3, at the Guild Hall.

Officers of the local post urge that all members of the organization be present at the meeting, when the colors will be presented by officers of the Matt Smith post.

Plans in the formative stage will culminate in a drive for gifts to disabled veterans in the hospitals on Christmas Day.

IF IT BREAKS, WE'LL ALL GO UNDER! By COLLIER

Priest Substituting at St. Peter's Church Endured 16 Months of Cruelty in Jap Prison

The Rev. Francis X. Sauerborn, S. V. D. who is substituting for Father M. Flaherty at St. Peter's Catholic church is making a gradual recovery from the effects of 16 months of cruel solitary confinement in a Japanese prison during the recent war.

A missionary in various parts of Japan for 12 years, Father Sauerborn was taken prisoner in Niigata May 9, 1944 and placed in prison there until the following December when he was removed to a prison at Takada.

It was in Takada prison that he received his worst treatment. With no books to read at first, his hands shackled in front of him, Father Sauerborn spent week after week looking at blank walls, praying, recollecting, thinking.

The priest was the only occidental in the prison. Food was scant and very poor. It consisted of rice and soybeans, the only variation being a little soybean gruel. During his imprisonment, Father Sauerborn contracted dysentery and lost so much weight he was hardly recognized by friends after his release.

Only about ten times was the priest taken from his cell and those were for the purpose of parading him before the people as an evidence that the Japanese were winning the war.

On these occasions he was shackled and a straw hood pulled over his head so that he was only able to see through slits in it. The people could not recognize him and see that it was the same person who was being paraded each time.

Toward the last of his imprisonment he was given two Japanese books to read and some prison papers. Then came the day when the American army liberated him. His faith had carried him through.

Now residing at Techny he is attempting to regain his health so that he can return to Japan to resume his missionary work.

He was born in Coblenz, Germany, where his mother and oldest sister now reside.

Antioch high will take the floor this evening in its first basketball game of the season as a favorite to win over Grant High.

Intense practice has placed the Sequoits in good trim for the game and Coach Maurice Kruzan believes they will produce.

Starting at center will be Morris, a junior, with a height of 6 feet one inch. Dan Jones, senior at left forward, is even an inch taller while Bob Kraft at right forward, a junior is shorter.

Coach Richard Payne, of Illinois State Normal, in charge of the Jayvees is not sure just what his lineup will be. The referees will be Kelton, of Libertyville and Steussy, of Woodstock.

The first game will start at 7:30 p. m. and the main game at 8:30. A large crowd is expected.

The next game will be with Bensenville on their court Friday, Dec. 6.

ANTIOCH WOMAN'S CLUB MEETING, MON., DEC. 2

Mrs. William B. Selleck will speak on the subject of "The Cradle" before a meeting of the Antioch Woman's club Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Einar Petersen. Assistant hostesses are Mrs. Paul Ferris, Mrs. Myrus Nelson and Mrs. A. L. Schenck.

Work on Grass Lake Bridge to Start in Spring

Lions Club is Told of Progress at Meeting Monday

Antioch Lions club members were told that arrangements for closing a contract for the erection of the long-sought-after Grass Lake bridge were almost complete at a business meeting of the club Monday evening at Hans and Mables, Loon Lake. Wm. A. Rosing, chairman of the committee, reported that the contract would be signed in time for work to begin early in the spring of 1947, and that the improvement, which has been the goal of the club's committee for several years, would become a reality.

Other committee reports made at the meeting included that of the nominating committee, composed of C. K. Anderson, Benjamin R. Burke, C. E. Gaffey, William M. Marks, and Maurice Radtke. The following slate of officers for 1947 were nominated by the committee: president, Roman B. Vos; 1st vice, Edward C. Jacobs; 2nd vice, Lloyd E. Murrie; 3rd vice, C. E. Gaffey; secy.-treas., Edwin J. Sletten; Asst. secy., James E. Kopriva; Asst. Treas., William E. Brook; Director, Robert J. Webb; Director, James W. McMillen; Lion Tamer, Maurice H. Radtke; Tail Twister, Clarence B. Olson; Dan S. Boyer and Frank D. Powles are hold-overs on the board of directors and will carry on for another year.

The election will take place at the regular meeting on December 9, 1946. The meeting will be held at Pregezer's Resort.

To Hold Ladies' Night

Installation of the new officers will be made at the annual ladies night, to be held at Pasadena Gardens on January 6. A committee, headed by President Harry J. Krueger, reported that a bigger and better floor show would be a part of the entertainment and that special facilities for serving the turkey dinner will be made. An orchestra will provide music for dancing.

Other business conducted at the meeting included the donation of $25.00 to the Sister Kenny Foundation and a report on the Rescue Squad Fund. Secy.-Treas. F. J. Arnold of the squad fund committee reported that a total of almost $6500.00 has been collected to date, with additional donations coming in steadily.

Among those who have made donations to the fund since last week are: Mr. and Mrs. George Good, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sweeney, Hans Malgaard, Elroy K. Anderson, John Lippert, and an anonymous. Arnold also told of a fine gift which had been received from the Health and Happiness club composed of the pupils at Grass Lake school. The youngsters there had collected a sum in excess of $15.00 by sales of "candy and other promotions, and the money was donated to the fund. Arnold visited the school to thank the pupils in person for the donation. Members of the club at the school who subscribed to the donation are as follows:

T. R. Birkhead, principal at Antioch Township high school presented an excellent sound movie, showing the results of parental delinquency.

Wagner is Honored In Farm Sanitation Program at St. Louis

George Wagner of the Antioch Milling company was honored for his achievements in the Farm Sanitation program of the Ralston Purina company for the year 1946, at ceremonies held in St. Louis recently.

Wagner received recognition for his part in fighting the loss to agricultural production through poultry and livestock mortality, which alone has been estimated by the government at a half-billion dollars annually. With six million farms in the nation, that is an average of $83 per farm per year, not to mention the immeasurable additional losses of production resulting from diseases and parasites which are not fatal to the stock.

Your Life At Stake

Suppose that every productive acre of farm land and every farm building in the great agricultural state of Washington, with all its orchards, wheat fields and truck gardens was suddenly wiped out. That would be an inconceivable and unprecedented disaster.

Yet fire—uncontrolled, man-caused fire—is taking just such a toll from the people of this country. The last census gave the value of Washington's farms as $593,000,000. And that's about what our national 1946 fire loss will be.

The gravity of the problem has been well described by Frank A. Christensen, president of the National Board of Fire Underwriters. "Seven years ago the upward trend in fire losses began," he said. "During the war years we explained it away by charging it to increased activity or industrial and mercantile operations, undermanned fire departments, obsolete and inefficient fire fighting facilities, and public preoccupation with the war effort. However, it has now been more than a year since cessation of hostilities. The trend in fire losses has continued unabated, resulting in destruction of material and supplies at a time when they are vital to the reconversion of our economy...."

"Only once and possibly twice before in our history has waste by fire all over the country been so menacing to our nation's welfare as it is today."

We cannot escape our responsibility by saying that fire control is somebody else's business. It is our own, personal business. It comes down to the state, the town, the district, the home—and finally to the individual, whose carelessness is the greatest cause of fire. Every man's life, every man's property, every man's savings, is the stake in the fight against fire.

Learning the Hard Way

The citizens of a small New Jersey community recently learned the truth of the slogan, "Make Every Week Fire Prevention Week." And they learned it the hard way.

This town wound up the recent Fire Prevention Week observance on a Saturday with a spectacular parade of fire department equipment, accompanied by high school bands and civic associations. The demonstration ended in a mass meeting in front of the Borough Hall, where the need for fire prevention was discussed.

The following Monday the Borough Hall was a heap of ashes. Fire destroyed the police radio and fire alarm system, thus delaying the sounding of the alarm. That, coupled with low water pressure, gave the fire a disastrous start. It is suspected that the fire came from burning rubbish and leaves near the Hall.

What happened in this little town has happened in thousands of other American communities. The great fires, such as Berkeley, Chicago, San Francisco, and Baltimore were simply reflections of similar circumstances in greater degree. They point straight to one fact—fire prevention must be a continuous, never-faltering work, and no hazard is too small to overlook.

Think of this in connection with your town, your business, your home. The make fire prevention a part of your daily living.

A Catastrophe—Not A Solution

Whatever public health problem we have in this country can be solved without creating the $5,000,000, 000-a-year-bureaucracy that would be required to administer the proposed Wagner-Murray-Dingell bill.

Another bill which will be up for consideration in the next Congress is on the right track. It would make Federal grants to states to help pay for medical care for the needy—those who honestly can't afford to pay themselves. And it would place the administration where it belongs—in the states and local communities which know their own problems and how best to deal with them.

For the ordinary worker, prepaid medical and hospital care plans have been making rapid and well-earned progress. Under these plans, the worker pays voluntarily—a small monthly sum which assures him the attention of a doctor of his own choosing, plus needed hospital and clinical facilities when sickness strikes. Most of these plans provide for the inclusion, also at small cost, of the members of his family is desired.

Throughout the country, private, endowed organizations are continuing their fine work in providing medical care for the needy, and in advancing preventive medicine.

This is normal progress, and it is getting results. The Wagner-Murray-Dingell bill would discourage individual initiative—and throw the practice of medicine into the lap of politics. That would be a catastrophe, rather than a solution to a problem.

SHRINKING COAL STOCKS for Gas Making THREATEN GAS SUPPLY

Continuation of the work stoppage in the nation's bituminous coal mines would seriously affect normal service to our gas customers.

This is due to the fact that the Public Service Company normally relies in part on coal-produced gas which is mixed with natural gas to make up the total gas supply for our customers.

In this emergency, heavy cold weather demands, combined with the coal shortage, could cause the total requirements to exceed the greatest supply we can provide.

The Illinois Commerce Commission and the company join in urging all customers to cooperate in reducing their use of gas.

HERE ARE WAYS YOU CAN HELP:

1. If you heat your premises with gas, keep temperatures no higher than necessary to maintain health.
2. Don't use your gas range to heat the kitchen.
3. If you heat water with gas, don't use more hot water than is essential.
4. Reduce as much as possible the use of all other gas appliances.

Civilian Production Administration has issued an order providing for curtailment of deliveries of gas for certain industrial and commercial uses if coal stocks fall below specified amounts.

We are confident that we will have your full cooperation during this emergency.

SLEEPING SICKNESS OUTLOOK DOUBTFUL

As we come into the season for mosquitoes, bugs, and other insects, thousands of horse owners again begin to ask themselves the question—

Mosquitoes and other insects carry sleeping sickness.

"What are the chances for horse sleeping sickness this year, and will my horses be safe?"

Unfortunately, that is a question that no one is able to answer, because sleeping sickness is now one of the most unpredictable diseases known to veterinary science.

However, we are learning more about this baffling and costly disease as time goes on. For one thing, we know that it can be carried not only by mosquitoes, but also by mites, birds, ticks, and numerous forms of insects. We know that birds act as reservoirs for the virus from year to year (and some authorities say that chickens may do the same). And, most seriously, the virus of horse sleeping sickness can also kill human beings. In fact, the human cases of this disease now run into the thousands, and there have been many deaths from it.

Instead of just one type of sleeping sickness virus, as at first supposed, veterinarians have now isolated FOUR types—the Eastern strain, the Western, the St. Louis, and the Venezuelan. Thus the problem is further complicated.

The best defense against the disease is to have all horses immunized in the spring, before the insect season begins. If the vaccinating is done properly, the horses can go on working without layoff—and the immunity is usually good for the entire season. It should be pointed out, however, that sleeping sickness vaccination requires a special intra-dermal method, involving special techniques and skill, and must be done properly if firm immunity is to be established.

The Last Warning - - The Formula

When you buy fire insurance keep these two things in mind—the home you have and the equally good home you'll want if you are burned out. Obviously, the amount of your fire insurance should approximate the present high value of the home you own because this also is approximately the value of an equally good home you will want to buy after a fire.

The present level of telephone rates was, with few exceptions, established in the early 1920's. For over 97% of our customers there's been no rate increase in 20 years.

Yet, the cost of providing telephone service to you has been climbing higher and higher.

True, we're doing more business than ever before. But expenses have risen faster than income.

Payroll costs alone have more than doubled since 1940. Prices of materials and equipment, needed to maintain your service, have greatly increased.

That explains why Illinois Bell's present rate of earnings is as low as in our worst depression year—and why we have reluctantly decided that we must ask for an adjustment in rates.

Disabled Vets May Receive Free Care In "Home Town" Plan

Illinois is one of the first States to put into operation all four phases of the Veterans Administration's "home-town" medical program for disabled veterans, it was disclosed today by Robert D. Beer, manager of the VA Illinois Regional office.
Illinois veterans with service-connected disabilities can obtain free care from doctors, dentists and druggists in their communities, and emergency treatment in local hospitals. Approximately 8,000 physicians and dentists, and 3,000 pharmacies in the state are participating in the program.

The program supplements the services of five hospitals and 11 clinics operated by the VA, and 13 other Illinois hospitals under contract to provide free treatment for disabled veterans.
Home-town treatment is authorized only by the VA when clinics cannot promptly care for additional patients or when the veteran cannot travel to a clinic because of his disability or his job.

An ex-serviceman may be admitted by his physician to a private hospital for emergency treatment of a service-connected ailment if he is unable to travel to the nearest VA hospital or if bed space is not available. The physician should obtain VA authorization prior to admission but, in extreme emergencies, the request may be submitted within 72 hours after the veteran has entered the hospital.
A woman veteran may obtain the emergency hospitalization for any disability, regardless of whether it is connected with her military service.

Commemorates Napoleon
The Arc de Triomphe was built in Paris in 1806 to commemorate the victories of Napoleon. So great is the respect for the significance of this monument that in 1940 Hitler's army walked around instead of through the arch, while entering Paris.

Aircraft Use Textiles
Textiles are used in aircraft in considerable quantity for both decorative and utility purposes.

Fact and Scripture

On this Thanksgiving Day we remember the faith of our Fathers, who left their lands of tradition to seek a land for freedom of worship.

While many are celebrating on this holiday, we find the words of the Apostle Paul quite fitting on this occasion.
"We also are men of like passions with you, and preach unto you that ye should turn from these vanities unto the living God, which made heaven and earth, and the sea, and all things that are therein:
Who in times past suffered all nations to walk in their own ways. Never the less he left not himself without witness, in that he did good, and gave us rain from heaven, and fruitful seasons, filling our hearts with food and gladness."
Acts 14:15-17

SUNDAY DINNER

Suggestions

CHICKEN, a favorite Sunday dinner mainstay in all parts of the globe, has come a long way from its humble origin as a bird of pretty plumage. History indicates that wild fowl were found in many Asiatic countries centuries ago, and were highly prized for their feathers. Later the chicken was domesticated and appeared frequently on European banquet tables as a delicacy.

Today, chicken is a regular and popular feature on the menus of most American families. During the war years, the poultry industry performed a herculean task filling the gap in daily dinner menus caused by meat shortages. Chicken production still is high, and shoppers will find an adequate supply of birds that show the results of good care and good feeding.

There are enough different ways to prepare and serve chicken to satisfy even the most critical of appetites, according to the A & P Service for Home-Makers. The bird may be roasted, broiled, fried or served fricassee style, depending only upon the particular taste of the family and the talent of the cook. Stuffing and giblet gravy make tasty companions for a chicken dinner. Leftover bread, cracker crumbs, celery, giblets, onions, oysters, raisins and nuts will make savory bases for delicious stuffings.

When cooking chicken, good chefs pay particular attention to the oven timetable. Young broilers normally are cooked 20-25 minutes per pound at a moderate temperature of about 350 degrees. Fryers are cooked at moderate heat, 25-45 minutes, depending upon the size of the pieces. A fricassee is simmered at a temperature of 185-190 degrees, about 40 minutes per pound. A roaster is cooked in a 300-350 degree oven, about 30-35 minutes per pound.

For Sunday dinner, serve a roast chicken with stuffing and gravy, mashed potatoes and creamed onions, tossed green salad, fruit jelly and a beverage.

Sees Adobe as Help In House Shortage

Former Editor Sees Its Value as Building Material.

WASHINGTON.—With the acute housing shortage reaching a disastrous stage the past year, preventing many young couples from marrying for lack of a home and causing thousands of others to double up with their families in a small and overcrowded household, methods of alleviating the condition are constantly being expounded by those needing homes themselves or possessing a sincere desire to help others obtain housing.

A new suggestion along these lines has been proffered by a 71-year-old gentleman living in this city. With wood and other building materials so scarce, why not use adobe?

Adobe is mud or clay which has been moulded into bricks and dried by the sun and air. It has long been associated with Indians and Mexicans in the building of their huts and, therefore, scorned by modern architects. Actually, however, adobe differs from our own bricks only in respect to the quality clay used and the method of hardening. Our bricks are dried by means of heated kilns and are more durable.

In 1938, M. J. Blanke and his wife vacationed in California where they saw many attractive homes, cottages, tourist cabins and shops made of adobe, bitudobe and cernadobe. When the need for building materials became formidable last spring, Blanke remembered the California adobe cottages he had seen and decided that here, indeed, was an ideal way to overcome the obstacles confronting those who wished to build.

He had recently sold his newspaper and, with time on his hands, he spent long and determined hours in the Library of Congress and other governmental agencies. He wrote hundreds of letters to every source available to obtain material regarding the use of adobe and soon accumulated a vast assortment of reliable data from various parts of the United States.

It proved conclusively to him that here was the best solution to a home at this time. Here was one way for veterans and others to build, or have built, homes for their families without delay and, better yet, build them "dirt cheap," so to speak.

A reference source list was compiled, printed and offered for sale.

'For a Buck a Throw'

Students 'Let It Grow'

LAFAYETTE, IND. — Several thousand Purdue university students, sworn to the pledge, "For a buck a throw, let it grow," were withholding the buck while lengthening locks crept down their necks and around their ears. Embattled barbers, who recently raised the price of haircuts from 75 cents to $1, charged that the students had employed strong arm tactics to enforce a boycott of their shops, but university officials denied the charge.

Chemical Reich Developed Is Substitute for Soap

PHILADELPHIA.—Scientists have learned how to make an efficient substitute for soap out of a paraffin hydrocarbonate extracted from crude oil treated with sulphur dioxide and chlorine.

Dr. Chester M. Suter, associate director of Sterling-Winthrop Research Institute, told the Philadelphia section of American Chemical society about the new soap substitute at a meeting in Franklin Institute.

Citing a substance called "Mercol," Dr. Suter said it was developed by the Germans during the war to produce a substitute for soap and synthetic cleansing agents of other types which were scarce.

"It was found to have excellent wetting qualities, very good foam formation, great stability in hard water and high washing power," the doctor said.

French Archaeologists Find Ancient City in Holy Land

JERUSALEM. — French archaeologists have announced the discovery of traces of a city dating back possibly 5,000 years in north-central Palestine.

The site of the city, found 20 feet below the desert after three months of careful digging by the French Biblical and Archeological school under direction of Father de Vaux, is so situated that discoverers said it might be the old Israelite capital of Tirza. However, Father de Vaux cautioned against "prematurely placing importance on the discovery."

Zoo Bearburgers Find Quick Sale Among Hungry Humans

But he had the answer—bearburgers. Unable to find meat for his three bears and a lion, Creighton liquidated the bears. Hungry human beings, also unable to find meat, placed orders for 500 pounds of chops, steaks and bearburgers. Long lines formed when the bear meat went on sale.

Folly Turkeys...

a greater demand than can be produced.

During the war Uncle Sam took 80 per cent of the supply.
Mr. Morse left his theatrical vocation seven years ago to devote his entire time to the business. His farm now grows seven or eight thousand turkeys and more than that number—20,000 turkeys are processed yearly—are raised by farmers in the Trevor region.

The turkeys are taken after hatching and kept in a brooder three weeks. Then they are placed in sectional houses with wire sun porches and floors for a period of five weeks and then turned out to range.

Turkeys are temperamental and difficult to raise. If they are not strong at birth they won't eat and starve to death. Morse said there isn't much truth in the statement that turkeys have to be taught to eat because they do "what comes naturally," but he keeps up tradition by placing bright colored marbles in their drinking water and mash to get them started. The birds peck at the marbles and get the taste of food.

Must be Moved Often
Because turkeys are susceptible to diseases contracted from chickens they are herded to different plots every three weeks, and the ground is not again used for four years. In the meantime that ground is plowed and sown to grass or grain.

Turkeys must be herded and kept well scattered to prevent huddling and smothering. For that reason a herdsman passes among them every half hour the entire day, blowing a whistle which excites them just enough to keep them scattered.

Morse says that because of scientific handling and sanitary conditions his losses do not run more than one and one-half percent.

Farmers Help Pack
The birds usually are full grown in late fall and the packing season starts Oct. 15 and lasts until March 15. Thirty persons, mostly farmers and other residents of the community work in shifts from 3 a. m. to 9 p. m. roasting, slicing and hand packing the meat attractively in glass jars. This is done in a building 40x80 in dimension.

Nothing but mail order business is handled. Most orders are for yearly supplies.

Just now the Folly farm is seeing its busiest time even though the holiday season is considered the end for most turkey raisers for much of the vacuum packed products may be used on the table as late as next Thanksgiving.

For the coming year Morse plans to increase the baking and packing facilities. Beyond that he doesn't intend to increase his business. It is just at the size he wants it and beyond that it would pass the saturation point of good profit with minimum effort.

Golf Craze

Golf was forbidden in Scotland in 1401, because people had become so interested in golf that they neglected their archery practice. Mary Queen of Scots was playing golf when word was brought to her of her husband's murder. Her son, James I of England, appointed a clubmaker and a ball manufacturer. Until 1848, when the gutta percha ball was introduced, golf balls were made of leather stuffed with "as many feathers as a hat will hold."

Snakes' Teeth

A snake's teeth are pointed backward to prevent escape of animals captured for food.

Vets in "Job Training" Should Keep Contact With V. A. Says Bradney

Delays experienced by veterans in receiving subsistence for schooling and on-the-job training as well as certificates of eligibility is quite often due to the failure of the veteran himself to maintain a proper contact, Homer G. Bradney, administrator of the Illinois Commission said today.

It has been a difficult problem for officers, Bradney said, to keep in touch with veterans who have filed applications for benefits. Many of them move and leave no forwarding address.

Many veterans in school or training register complaints with IVC service officers because of non-receipt of subsistence or certificates of eligibility. Upon investigation it has been found either or both have been mailed to the veteran but were returned because of lack of a forwarding address.

Every field office of the Commission can render a maximum of service to claimants only if the veteran maintains proper contact with the service officer, Bradney said.

Service officer Louis E. Williams, whose office is located at American Legion Home, Waukegan, Illinois, is ready to help veterans or their dependents in filing for benefits.

Pre-Dawn Accidents

Auto accidents on Chicago boulevards reach a peak in proportion to traffic shortly before dawn while the morning and evening rush hours have a better auto safety record than other periods of the day, according to the American Municipal association. A survey of last year's Chicago park district traffic disclosed that 33 accidents occurred between 3 and 4 a. m. per 1,000,000 vehicle miles traveled, while during the 8 to 9 a. m. rush hour—when traffic is much heavier—the accident rate was only 4.6 per 1,000,000 vehicle miles.

Egg Yolks

Yolks of eggs have more food value than the whites. The yolks have minerals and vitamins for growth and health. Both the white and yolk are protein rich. Protein builds and repairs muscle. Thus eggs take the place of lean meat in the meals. It is well to eat an egg each day. Eggs are easily digested if they are cooked at a low temperature. A high temperature in cooking toughens the white. Eggs cooked in water not quite boiling, are tender and jelly-like. Fried eggs should be cooked in fat that is not smoking hot.

Lamb Loss

Approximately one-third of lambs born never reach the market. Better care at lambing time, proper rations and parasite control will help to reduce these losses.

British Judge Makes 'Oomph' Good Word

Legal Problem Keeps Justice Awake All Night.

LONDON. — After spending a sleepless night considering the problem, a dignified British appellate court judge decided that the American word "oomph" is part of the English language. He also decided that "oomphs" could be considered a legal trade name for women's shoes.

To reach this major decision, the justice, Sir Francis Evershed, was forced to call upon Attorney Lloyd Jacob to translate a letter written in "American" by a girl employee of a footwear company, explaining why the company wanted to use "oomphs" as a trade name for its shoes.

The company's request had been refused by the British register of trademarks, so the firm employed Jacob to appeal the decision. Even Jacob, however, confessed himself unable to translate part of the letter.

Sir Francis confessed with a smile that he "didn't sleep a wink all night" because of the disturbance created in his mind in trying to classify "oomph" as a word.

The letter insisted that "oomph" was part of the English language and that an "oomph girl" was readily known to be a "passionate young woman, a hot mama or an actress with sex appeal."

Jacob apologized for the phraseology of the letter, and said that he personally considered it "one of the lighter contributions of the lend-lease program."

The letter said: "Oomph can be defined as a positive personality, animation of spirit, enthusiasm and sex appeal. A girl may have beauty of both mind and body and still be markedly lacking in oomph."

"Music may have oomph in that it animates in a spine-tingling way. To some, music with oomph merely causes the hair to stand on end rather than to tingle the spine, but that is rather beside the point."

"Music with oomph may be said to be solid, brother, eight beats to the bar. It cooks with gas and should really send you."

It was at this point in the letter that the defense attorney admitted he was unable to translate completely the last sentence for the court.

New Device to Help

Survivors at Sea

SAN DIEGO, CALIF.—Development of a new lifesaving device—permitting listeners on the California coast to hear tiny depth-charges exploded by survivors of plane or ship accidents 2,000 miles at sea—was announced recently by the navy electronics laboratory here.

The device, known as "sofar" (from "sound ranging and fixing"), will be in operation in the Eastern Pacific next year. It was developed out of a wartime discovery that comparatively small sounds are transmitted huge distances by a layer of water about two-thirds of a mile beneath the surface.

United States Eases Ban

On Highway Construction

WASHINGTON. — Public roads administration removed all restrictions on federal-aid highway construction which does not require structural steel.

Previously the agency, under President Truman's public works curtailment order, froze all new highway construction projects except those approved prior to August 5.

The agency announced the following message has gone to all division engineers: "Projects included in federal highway programs which have been approved subsequent to August 5 and all those approved hereafter, provided that they will require no structural steel, may now be approved for construction."

Hydrogen-Oxygen Powers New Motor Made by Mechanics

MINNEAPOLIS.—Two former airplane mechanics in World War I believe they can revolutionize automobile travel.

J. J. Riley and his brother, A. L. Riley, have developed an air-processing mechanism which they are convinced will eliminate the gasoline tank, the fuel line and the carburetor.

The device uses hydrogen and oxygen to power a motor. The mechanism has two tanks in which air is chemically processed and water vapor removed. Pure oxygen and hydrogen are left.

Occupation of Germany

Sickness Strikes

In any 24-hour period, seven million Americans are incapacitated by sickness or other disability, half of them for six months or more.

Fruit Hazards

Huge New Signs For Broadway

Great White Way Soon Will Sparkle Again in All Its Former Glory.

NEW YORK. — Recouping after its years of wartime dimouts, the Great White Way soon will glitter with several of the most spectacular billboards ever constructed.

The architect of these advertising wonders-to-be is Douglas Leigh, 35-year-old sign king.

He thought up the animated cartoon billboard, the cigarette sign which blows 6-foot smoke rings and the 1,000-square-foot soap flake box foaming over with 3,000 12-inch bubbles a minute.

Trickiest of Leigh's new traffic-stopping signs will be a dummy sign painter, 14 feet high, painting away on a huge blank billboard.

This tireless worker will paint "teaser copy" to arouse the curiosity of the one million people who pass through the bright-light district each day and night.

He will paint slowly, day and night, and when he finishes the billboard a week or 10 days later his audience will discover it advertises automobiles.

Happy at His Work.

Leigh, as jubilant as a kid at Christmas over his latest project, happily predicts it will snarl traffic for blocks.

"We experimented with a sign like this in Detroit before the war," he said, "and the painter looked so real the union called up to protest when he continued painting during a rainstorm."

Leigh likes to make his signs dramatic. A giant thermometer he is now designing for an ale company will depict a constant battle of the elements.

A round little man in a bathing suit, representing heat, will fight a continuous duel with a snow man.

When the temperature drops as low as 10 degrees below zero, the snow man will push the sun man down on his back. But when the temperature rises to 100 degrees, the sun man will be the victor.

Then It Will Be Even.

Leigh explains rather sadly that at 50 degrees the battle will be even.

Most brilliant of the new spectaculars will be the multicolored peanut company sign, built of 15,000 25-watt bulbs and using enough electricity daily to light a town of 10,000. This sign will show the firm's trademark, "Mr. Peanut," waving a magic wand.

With each wave of the wand—as if by magic—the sign will light up a picture of the firm's different products.

The first three-dimensional sign on Broadway will be Leigh's complicated three-story spectacular for a ginger ale company.

This sign will cover two sides of a building and be shaped like the corner of a bar.

On the bar will be two 14-foot bottles of ginger ale and sparkling water and two 8-foot highball glasses, complete with ice cubes, 12-foot swizzle sticks and continuously rising plastic bubbles to show the liveliness of a carbonated drink.

195,000 More Beds Urged

In U. S. Hospital Survey

PHILADELPHIA. — Extensive reorganization and expansion of the nation's medical institutions were recommended in a report expected to set the pattern for hospital service for the next generation.

Described as a "monumental step" in hospital history, the 700-page report, containing 175 conclusions and recommendations, climaxed a two-year study by a 22-member commission on hospital care.

Highlights of the report were proposals for construction of 195,000 additional general hospital beds, expansion of general hospitals to care for all types of illnesses and improved service for chronic and mental disease sufferers.

Diamond Cutters Speed Up

Production in Palestine

NATHANYA, PALESTINE. — Jewish artisanship geared to American-type production lines will produce an estimated 32 million dollars' worth of cut and polished diamonds in Palestine this year, from an industry that began eight years ago with a $1,600 debt.

Palestine's diamond industry, second only to Belgium as the world's cutting and polishing center, has revolutionized the centuries-old art of turning grubby looking rough diamonds into the scintillating gems.

There are 33 factories in the country, employing some 4,000 craftsmen who earn from $75 to $100 a week.

Effect of High Speed

On Pilots Being Studied

WASHINGTON. — Some navy officers say that human beings would be unable to fly in those 1,500-mile-an-hour planes that are being talked about.

Sudden deceleration through engine failure would give the pilot such a terrific shock it would kill him, they say. Supersonic planes, they predict, will have to be pilotless and electronically controlled.

Draining Washing Machine

Keep the agitator in action while you're draining the washing machine. It keeps the sediment stirred up, so the machine needs less rinsing.

Gather Mistletoe

Ninety per cent of the mistletoe on Christmas markets comes from Oklahoma where many rural people make a part time business of gathering and shipping.

Darkened Fruits

A way to prevent the darkening of canned and frozen fruits is by adding ascorbic acid, the pure form of vitamin C, which improves the quality as well as the color. The ascorbic acid powder is particularly valuable for peaches and pears. Other frozen fruits, such as cherries, apricots and apples also show color and quality improvement when ascorbic acid is added before they are frozen.

Black Horses Suffer from Heat

Black horses are affected more by heat than horses of other colors. They absorb the sun's rays, get overheated more quickly and do not live as long as white horses. Experts in the field of color research know well the results of these experiments. However, the causes of some of these results are to this day inexplicable.

Cultivate Grapes

At least 1,500 varieties of grapes are cultivated in Europe. The grape is supposed to have been indigenous to Asia.

WASHINGTON. — The army announced it will recruit 5,000 partly disabled veterans and offer them a career.

The army said men who have an honorable discharge and received their wounds in honorable service will be eligible for re-enlistment, to serve in jobs that will free physically able soldiers for more strenuous duty.

Positions open to partially disabled veterans include that of Diesel and automobile mechanic clerk, postal clerk, dental technician, draftsman, electrician, machinist, motion-picture projectionist, sign painter, shoe repairman, stenographer, tailor, telephone operator and many other semi-skilled jobs.

Protection for Earthquake; Buildings Put on Skates

The "skates," a special type of roller bearing assemblies, will allow a building to roll six inches in any direction to cushion the shock of an earthquake.

Lamp Cords

With children around, safeguard your table lamps this way: Wrap lamp cords a couple of times around the table leg. This takes care of any loose hanging cords over which some one may trip.
